1) Program Basics and Future Awards

What is an Economic Development Initiative (EDI), Community Project Funding (CPF) grant and where can I find additional information?	An Economic Development Initiative (EDI), Community Project Funding (CPF) grant is a congressionally legislated provision that directs specific approved funds to be awarded to a particular entity for a specific amount and to be spent on the project or purpose identified in the authorizing legislation. This provision is made explicit in a particular a fiscal year's appropriations bill.⁰⁴ Entities that are not named within that appropriations bill may not access CPF funds. These awards are referred to as Economic Development Initiative, Community Project Funding/Congressionally Directed Spending. More information can be found on the HUD website.	Economic Development Initiative – Community Project Funding Grants Web Page
What types of projects are typically funded with these grants?	CPF grants have been used for a variety of economic development and community development purposes across the country. See the Fiscal Year 2022 link for recent examples.	Fiscal Year 2022 Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022: Congressional Record (Joint Explanatory Statement) Community Project Funding descriptions begin on page 612

Question	Response	Reference(s)
How can an organization access the funds for these grants?	Members of Congress initiate an application process for these funds. Projects awarded through the Congressionally directed application process are then written into the Congressional Record of a fiscal year appropriation legislation. Congress then dedicates the grants to each relevant agency, including HUD. Only the entity named by Congress in HUD's Conference Report or Congressional Record for the relevant fiscal year may receive these grant funds.	FY2022: Community Project Funding Grant Guide Section 1: Background and Purpose/Section 2: Instructions FY2023: Community Project Funding Grant Guide (2023) Section 1: Background and Purpose/Section 2: Grant Award Process and Instructions
What should I do if I wish to be considered for a FY2024 grant?	The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) manages the administration of the grants after the grants have been selected and approved by Congress, thus becoming a part of the Appropriations Law. Congress has not yet provided an Appropriation Law to HUD for FY 2024 and onwards. Potential grantees should inquire with your members of Congress. Please also review the FY2023 Community Project Funding Grant Guide for additional details about requirements.	Community Project Funding Grant Guide (2023)
2) Grant Award and Timelines
How does a grantee find their project description and award amount?	For FY2022, the list of Community Project Funding awards begins on page 612 of Congressional Record. For FY2023, the list begins on page 82.	FY2022: Fiscal Year 2022 Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022: Congressional Record (page 612) FY2023:

Must grantees apply for these funds through a HUD competitive process?	CPF grantees are not selected or identified through a HUD-managed competitive process. Awardees identified by Congress will be contacted by HUD and instructed on what information is required and give guidance on next steps. Through this process, awardees must inform HUD about details of their project scope and provide an outline of the CPF portion of the project budget. Awardees will also be required to complete certain federal forms that certify and acknowledge requirements of the funding.	FY2022: Community Project Funding Grant Guide Section 1: Background/Section 2: Instructions FY2023: Community Project Funding Grant Guide (2023) Section 1: Background/Section2: Grant Award Process and Instructions
How long will it take for a grantee to access the funds?	It can take between 90-120 days from the time the grant materials are submitted for the funds to be made available. However, the length of time is dependent on the grantee and how soon the grantee returns the required materials (e.g., completed grant package, project budget, signed Grant Agreement, completed environmental review) to the HUD Congressional Grants Division.	FY2022: Community Project Funding Grant Guide Section 2: Instructions FY2023: Community Project Funding Grant Guide (2023) Section 2: Grant Award Process and Instructions

3) Project Submittals, Costs and Eligibility
Is there a required format or template for the narrative and budget?	No. Grantees must provide a brief, but sufficient, project narrative that is consistent with the Congressional authorization for the use of the grant. Grantees must also include a line-item project budget that is consistent with that Congressional authorization and the limitations and prohibitions on expenses as required by the Act and described in the Community Project Funding Grant Guides. The project narrative and line-item budget should address the ENTIRE project (even if it is only partially funded with CPF funds). The line-item budget must also include a sub-budget that addressed the CPF portion of the budget. The CPF portion of the line-item budget must match the total CPF grant amount.
